PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Throughout 15+ years of customer-facing roles across beverage, retail, financial services, and foodservice industries, I’ve consistently demonstrated the ability to build trusted relationships, identify customer needs, and deliver solutions that drive loyalty and repeat business. At PepsiCo I managed and grew high-volume account portfolios — regularly engaging store managers, buyers, and decision-makers to negotiate shelf space, introduce new products, and resolve service concerns on the spot. At Cottonwood Financial, I counseled clients on personal loan products and payment solutions, matching each individual to the right financial product while meeting monthly origination targets. At Target Corporation, served on the sales floor team to consistently exceed guest satisfaction and revenue goals through hands-on coaching, strategic product placement, and proactive service recovery. Whether managing a delivery route, advising a financial client, or leading a retail team, I bring a consultative, relationship-first sales approach that turns first-time customers into long-term accounts.
