

AANCHAL PARIHAR

ABOUT ME

I am a creative visual designer currently pursuing my Bachelor's degree in Visual Arts, with a passion for bringing ideas to life across multiple art forms. Over the years, I have developed strong hands-on skills in photography, video editing, 3D visualization, creative graphic design, and stop motion animation. I have a genuine love for art in all its forms — whether it is capturing the perfect shot, building a three-dimensional scene, crafting a compelling video, or animating a story frame by frame. I approach every project with curiosity, attention to detail, and a strong personal creative voice. I am currently building my portfolio and actively looking for opportunities where I can contribute fresh, imaginative visuals and grow alongside a creative team.
